MARKET NAPROW AND TRADING DULL

Some Recovery Late in Day Followed Depression of the Early Hours.

L. & N. DIVIDEND INCREASE

Rumored That J. P. Morgan is After Colorado Fuel for U. S. Steel Corporation.

(By Associated Press.) NEW YORK, June 1.-The market for stocks to-day was hardly more than nominal, the duliness of the trading falling to the year's low record. The significance. The drift was exceedingly narrow. During the first half of the day the balance rather inclined towards the side of depression, and in the latter day the balance rather inclined towards the side of depression, and in the latter halt there was some recovery.

The prominent stocks to-day were Louisville and Nashville and Colorade Fuel. The nominal motive for the buying in the first case was the unauthenticated rumors of an intended increase in the dividend rate at an early period, in the other stock the buying was alleged to be for account of J. P. Morgan and Company, and the purpose to be the securing of control of the property for transfer to the United States Steel Corporation. The later improvement in the market followed the publication of the preliminary estimates of the week's currency movement.

The banks appear to have gained cash for the week to the extent of between $5,009,000 and $10,009,000. The loan item is subject to unusually heavy operations, and no one attempts to forecast the not effect on the week's averages, but a considerable expansion of loans is generally expected. The state of the cotton crop was indicated as being favorable. The resumption in the coal roads' inquiry by the interstate Commerce Commission had some repressive effect on speculation. The late recovery was not fully held, and the market closed irregular and extremely dull.

Bonds were irregular; total sales, par value, 11,915,000. United States bonds were unchanged on call.

The total sales of stocks to-day amounted to 255,500 shares.

DANVILLIE TOBACCO MARKET.

(Reported by Dibrell Bros.) 1906.

Owing to the continued dry spell very little tobacco has been sold on our market for the continued and the partners some little obacco, mos of which will be closed out in the next season, as prices appear very satisfactory on all grades. Trade has been very quiet in hogshead tobaccos the past week, and we have heard of no sales of any consequence. The continued dry weather is getting to be quite serious, as it is time now for the erop to be planted out. The farmers have the ground prepared for the plants and are only awaiting a season to set them out. We think the usual copy will be planted in this section, provided we have a season within the next week or ten days.

TRADE CONDITIONS.

Wholesome Progress of Business Well Maintained.

(By Associated Press.) NEW YORK, June 1 .- R. G. Dun & Co's, weekly review of trade to-morrow

Business maintains wholesome progress, and mercantile collections improve Un-certainty regarding the crops caused unusual conservatism at the Northwest certainty regarding the crops caused unusual conservatism at the Northwest until this week, when the outlook became sufficiently encouraging to restore confidence. In many jobbing lines there is no prospect of vigorous activity until fall, but wholesale distribution is now heavy and retail business is only retarded at points where teliporary weather conditions are adverse. Little idle machinery is reported at manufacturing plants, except in a few cases of labor disputes, and several substantial increases in wages became effective on June 1st, Rallway enrisings thus far recorded for May, exceeded last year's by 11.1 per cent, and foreign commerce at this port the last week showed gains of $1.704.81 in imports, and $401.743 in exports. Money is returning from San Francisco, and more gold has been engaged abroad, but the security market rules compartitively quiet.

ing from San Francisco, and more gold has been engaged abroad, but the security market rules comparitively quiet. Aside from the strike of founders and moulders the iron and steel industry is in spiendid condition. No decrease in activity of textile machinery has occurred, although it is believed that some mills are taking orders and the tone of the primary market for cotton goods developed a little weakness, but without any radical reduction in quotations. Footwear factories ar esupplied with orders that maintain full activity for two or three months, and supplementary contracts for fall delivery continually arrive from salesmen or by mail. The higher prices announced last week an sole leather came as a surprise, owing to the duliness of the market and tended to make business still smaller.

Fallures this week numbered 174 in Fre United States, against 188 last year.

COTTON LETTER

By MILLER & COMPANY

NEW YORK, June 1.—The deadlork in the market, which has continued for the ten weeks since the final centus report on last year's crop was published, has been finally, broken and prices have come down with a smash. The expected squeeze did not materialize; on the contrary, the end of that month found prices down to the 10½ cent level, with the taine passing of May came a feeling of abandonment of the longs in July, and strenuous liquidation in that option has been the feature of the past few days. The week closed with prices at the bottom and a general feeling of uneasiness and apprehension prevailing. The bountiful showers of last Sunday and Monday put an end to all complaints of drought and improved crop prospects immensely. Throughout the week there have been numerous estimates of increases in acreages, nearly all indicating a greater area planted than was first thought probable. Accounts from the fields have been decidedly favorable, and conditions in Texas are reported to be nearly ideal. It is not surprising, therefore, that as soon as the fetitious strength lent by the false idea of a squeeze at the end of May was discipated, prices should seek a low level more in keeping with the encouraging crop outlook. A stale and disgusted July long interest hastened the readjustment by urgent liquidation.

long interest hastened the readjustment by urgent liquidation.

There will be a holiday to morrow in all markets, and in Liverpool and New Orleans on Monday, New York alone will remain open, and will have to bear the brunt of the agricultural bureau's report, published at 1 P. M. that day. Should the acreage figures be materially larger than expected, or the conditions more favorable, it can be readily understood that the concentrated selling of the world in a single market may have a disastrous effect on prices. If Liverpool were open on Monday, that harket would have to decline six points to meet our close of this evening.

Produce Market.

The receipts of country produce on Cary Street were not as large yesterday as the commission men had expected, but the demand was limited, and things evened up fairly well, supply and demand being so nearly equal as to keep the quotations just where they were at. Eggs are a little higher, and country butter, being more plentiful, is a little lower. With these exceptions, there were no changes worthy of note.

Leaf Tobacco Market.

Leaf Tobacco Market.

All four of the warehouses had fairly good breaks yesterday, and the total sales of sun-cured stock amounted to 75,000 pounds. The offerings were of good working stock, a few paes of wrappers showing up. All goods offered brought good prices, and the market closed very firm and strong. The highest figure recorded was $28. A number of piles sold from that figure down to $20. The week has been very favorable for preparing the leaf for market, and the warehousemen look for good breaks next week.

Woman, Arrested Lest Night.

Sergeant Howard, on the desk at the Bloody First, was introduced to a most unprepossessing foreigner, who could not even speak his own name distinctly, last night. A Syrtan named Joe Williams, or sounds to that effect, was led in by Officer Kuhn on a charge of beating a white woman named Mary Starkey.

"What's your name?" asked the sergeant.

"Brr-br-rrrr," answered the Syrian.

"What?"

Still more of the Br-rr- business.

"Put him down as Joe Williams, sergeant." was said. "That is what his friends call him."

Allie Allen is a witness in the case, which looks black for the former subject of the Sultan, as he is said to have treated the woman most crucily.

ing fast and furious late list night in the kitchen in the rear of No. 312 North Twelfth Street when burly forms of Police Officers C. J. Folkes and "Buck" Tailey appeared on the scene and at one fell swoop cornered and captured the whole bunch of nine crap shooters.

It was one of the most successful raids for many moons in Riermond. But the police had done their planning and plotting carefully and well, and though the rain fell fit to swamp patrol and patrolimen, at the final round-up at the First Station, the entire outlay found themselves in the clutches of the law and of steel bracelets. Not one escaped to tell the tale, and there will be some weeful sobbing and gnashing of teeth when Justice Crutchield puts the screws on this morning in the Police Court.

Crap shooters turned, willy nilly, firefighters, was the unique feature of this raid of Officers Folkes and Tailey. In the haste of the amateur gamesters to escape and clude the watchful cerberi of justice, they upset the lamp in the center of the room, and for a time it looked very much as if the kitchen would be a sacrifice to the flames and that the negroes would be cremated. But by a diligent use of clubs and pistols, every one of the unfortunate nine lent a hand in the good work, and the fire was extinguished after damaging the wall paper and utterly destroying the table cloth and table.

Caught Red-Handed. and table.

Caught Red-Handed.

Caught Red-Handed.

The negroes caught red-handed at the game were nine in number, and their roster on the roll book of fame is as follows; Slas Branch, Willie Gles, Willie Dance, Jim Glies, Willie Norrell, Willie Goode, owner, renter and proprietor of the joint; Walford Pollard, Henry Anderson and Clayton Holmes. Goode is held on the additional charge of being a suspicious character, and a strong case is being worked up against him, which means a heavy penalty if he is guilty.

The plans of the police officers were so well laid that nothing gang agley, and the negroes were literally pickled like so many sardines. Policeman Tailey took his stand at the door and officer Folkes at the one window of the room, and when the time was ripe for action a gentle shove of the door, and the nine skedaddled under bed and table and every other attainable place. As a result of his attempt to clamber out of the window Silas Branch had his hand cut by the glass, and in addition got a sounding whack on his head from an caken billy.

Along with the gang to the station was brought a full gallon jug of good old corn whiskey, and an additional quart bottle of gin. which the darkies were gayly tapping as the officers entered. This overturned with the lamp and helped to spread the directi flames. The newspapers on the wall caught, and the most heroic efforts were required to prevent a big fire. Bucket brigades were summarily formed, and with the assistance of the downpour of rain, which drenched everybody, the fire was quenched and the parties safely brought in.

Passed to Her Reward.

Aunt Phoebe Cox, a well-known and greatly beloved colored woman, ded at her home on Third Street, yesterday morning at 4 o'clock, and her funeral will take place from the First Baptist church (colored) at 5 o'clock to-morrow afternoon.

noon.

There are very few of the good, ola-time Virginia "mammies" and cooks left. They are passing away rapidly, and, unfortunately, none are coming up and, unfortunately, none are coming up to take their places. Aunt Phoebe was one of the old-fashioned kind, as true and as noble a woman as ever breathed. She was loved for her many virtues, not only by her own race, but by hundreds of white people. In all the relations of life she was true and loyal. As a mother, as a servant and as a friend she was a model and among the many who will attend her funeral to-morrow there will be no more slacere mourners than her white friends, who knew her and loved her because she was good and lovable.

Dr. Tompkins' Statement.

Dr. Christopher Tompkins makes the appended statement regarding the Nurses' Training School of the Retreat

Nurses' Training School of the Refrent for the Sick:

"At the commencement exercises of the Nurses' Training School of the Memorial Hospital, held on the 29th ultimo, in my address I stated that this school was the first, and, so far as I had been informed, was the only nurses' training school in Virginia registered by the Board of Rights of New York. I have since been told by Dr. R. D. Garcin, that the Nurses' Training School of the Refrent for the Sick is also registered by the Board of Regents, and he read me a letter from New York to that effect, This publication is made to correct any misappreliemsion that may occur in the matter and to do justice to the Retreat for the Sick."
